

GOP Congress Leaders Here For Breakfast Talk With Ike

By JACK BELL

Ex-President Dwight D. Eisenhower called on Republicans today to take a "positive approach" to national issues in a hard-hitting campaign for control of the House in the November election.

Eisenhower breakfasted with 10 GOP members of the Senate and House at his Gettysburg office for discussion of a forthcoming statement of Republican principles to be used in the campaign.

The former president told a news conference afterwards he was interested in giving the statement more impact and in trimming the 3,200-words of a preliminary draft prepared by the Senate House Committee.

REPLIES TO JFK

Answering questions, Eisenhower replied vigorously to President Kennedy's charge Saturday that the Republican party doesn't stand for anything.

"All you have to do is look at the record of the eight years when I was in the White House," he said. "There was a lot of constructive work done in that period."

In response to other questions, Eisenhower opposed Kennedy's health care plan for the elderly financed through Social Security taxes. Kennedy campaign vigorously for this plan in New York Sunday, declaring it "basically sound."

VOLUNTARY VS. COMPULSORY

Eisenhower said during his administration he proposed legislation which became the present Kerr-Mills law. Under this legislation the federal government matches state funds to provide health assistance for the needy.

Eisenhower said he was disappointed the measure did not include provision for federal assistance in cases of catastrophic illness. He said if this were added needs of most of the elderly could be met.

"I believe the proper approach is the voluntary, not the compulsory approach under the Social Security system," the former president said.

QUIP ON COEDS

Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., spokesman for the Senate and House members, said Eisenhower's advice would bring some changes in the party statement. Laird said the document will be ready for submission to Senate and House Republicans at separate meetings June 7.

Eisenhower broke up the news conference, held on the front steps of his office on the grounds of Gettysburg College, with a quip about a group of about 100 coeds in shorts who turned out to listen to what he had to say.

Turning to the senators and House members, Eisenhower observed with a wide grin:

"Why couldn't we have had the good luck to go to a college where all the coeds wear shorts?"

MORE TERSE STATEMENT

Laird earlier had predicted that a much more terse statement of the issues would emerge from the meeting.

Laird declined to enumerate the issues but others said the preliminary draft bears down hard

DRIVER'S NOTE BRINGS ARREST

A note left by a truck driver in Dudash's Truck Stop Restaurant along the Emmitsburg Rd. south of here led to the arrest of a Leechburg R. 1, Pa., man at 2:50 o'clock this morning on Carlisle St. on a charge of carrying a loaded revolver.

State police received a call about 2:30 o'clock from an attendant at the truck stop. The attendant said a truck driver had been in and when he left a folded piece of paper was found. The attendant unfolded and read the paper. On the slip the truck driver had written that he had a man with a loaded revolver in his truck and asked that police be notified to stop the vehicle and take the passenger into custody.

State police called borough police and Officers Paul B. Shearer and Ray K. Breighner drove south on Baltimore St. They saw the truck coming toward them, turned and followed it to Carlisle St. There they halted the truck and took the passenger into custody.

Police put the passenger, David Keith Riggle, 21, who had been hitchhiking when picked up by the truck driver, in jail and brought a charge against him before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder. The loaded .32 Colt revolver was removed to the police station to be held there pending disposition of the case.

YOUTH IS SHOT ACCIDENTALLY

A 16-year-old Hanover R. 1 youth, Howard Edward Millhimes, was shot accidentally in the left thigh Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Natural Dam.

State police said the youth had climbed into a tree, planning to go out onto a branch overhanging the water in order to shoot a snake in the water below.

As the Millhimes youth climbed, a 14-year-old boy in his party was also climbing the tree bearing a .22 calibre rifle.

At Millhimes request, the 14-year-old handed the rifle to Millhimes, who was getting into a position where he could shoot the snake. The trigger of the rifle was caught by a small twig on the tree and the rifle fired, with the bullet going through Millhimes' leg.

Police said the youth was removed to the Hanover Hospital by other members of the group with him.

FIVE INJURED IN 2 CRASHES NEAR X-KEYS

Five persons were injured in two auto accidents involving six cars Sunday evening on the Hanover-Cross Keys Rd. Damage totaled $3,350.

Four cars were involved in an accident at Red Hill on that highway at 9:40 o'clock Sunday night.

State police said Loren M. Leffer, 21, New Oxford R. 1, had halted his coupe on the highway in order to make a left turn. His car was struck in the rear, according to the officers by a convertible operated by Burdett W. Markle, 18, New Oxford R. 1. Markle's convertible, after hitting the Leffer car, glanced off and struck a southbound convertible driven by Cecil J. Shuda, 23, Hampton. Moments later, according to police, a convertible driven south by Franklin W. Wentz, 26, Hanover, came upon the scene. Wentz was unable to stop quickly enough and his car collided with the Leffer auto.

CROSS KEYS CRASH

DR. COLEMAN IS SCOUT GUIDE AT HARPER'S FERRY

Dr. J. Walter Coleman, now with the National Park Service at Washington, D. C., joined members of Boy Scout Troop, Cub Pack and Explorer Post 78, for which he had been a committee man for many years while here, in a tour of Harper's Ferry Sunday.

The former superintendent of the Gettysburg National Park, who was one of the committee of three experts who set up Harper's Ferry as a National Monument while superintendent there, outlined to the 53 Scouts, Cubs and Explorers of the Scout units sponsored by St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church here events at Harper's Ferry from the establishment of a national arsenal there by President George Washington, until the end of the Civil War.

As a member of the board set up by the National Park Service to ferret out the history of Harper's Ferry when it was planned to make it a national monument, Dr. Coleman was principal witness at the court trials involved in condemnation of land and the selection of the buildings purchased for the monument by West Virginia and given to the federal government for the park.

RECOUNTS HISTORY

For a time, as superintendent of the Gettysburg National Park, he was also superintendent of Harper's Ferry until a superintendent was secured for the new national monument.

He told the Scouts of John Brown's raid, which became most associated with the history of Harper's Ferry, and details of the fighting between Union and Confederate troops at various times during the Civil War. The town "changed hands" numerous times during the war. Dr. Coleman said when Confederates took over the town the Union sympathizers among the population left. When the Union took over the Confederate sympathizers left. Only two men remained in the town throughout the war -- the Catholic priest and the town doctor, both of whom (Continued On Page 2)

Dutch Chase Indonesian Chutists On New Guinea

HOLLANDIA, West New Guinea (AP) — Dutch troops today pursued a new batch of Indonesian paratroopers dropped on West New Guinea during the weekend. The Netherlands Information Service said an unknown number of invaders were dropped Saturday on Vogelkop, the island's westernmost peninsula.

The Dutch said an army unit stationed in Teminabuan "launched a rapid aggressive action," killing the Indonesian commander and another paratrooper and wounding three. The Dutch said they had no losses.

The Indonesian news agency Antara claimed Indonesian guerrillas had captured the town of Demta, 50 miles west of Hollandia. Antara said heavy fighting continued around Fakfak, south of Vogelkop, and Kaimana, on the south coast. It said Fakfak was under continuous guerrilla harassment and most of its population had been evacuated.

However, AP correspondent Hal McClure reported from Fakfak that life was proceeding there as usual.

Antara claimed 18 Dutch marines were killed last Tuesday in a clash near Fakfak after hundreds of Indonesian paratroopers had been dropped in the area. The story was denied by G. W. J. Van Dyk, chief of the Netherlands Defense Ministry's information department. He said there had been no Dutch losses since the Indonesians began dropping paratroops into West New Guinea three weeks ago.

President Sukarno told cheering crowds in Jakarta Sunday night Indonesia is ready to meet force with force if the Dutch want to settle the West New Guinea dispute by arms.

MAN, 22, JAILED FOR BURGLARY AND THREATS

James Austin Wright, 22, Hanover, was arrested Sunday morning at 3 o'clock and placed in the county jail charged by state police before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder with burglary, unlawful entry and malicious mischief. He is to be arraigned on the charges today.

State police said they were informed Wright had threatened Bernice Foltz, Hanover R. 5, on Friday night, and then on Saturday night telephoned Miss Foltz and again threatened her and warned her he was coming to her house.

The officers said they were told Miss Foltz then called friends to the house for protection if Wright should arrive. She was on the telephone talking to the Hanover police concerning the threats when, police said, they were told Wright kicked in the door to the house, went to the telephone and cut off the conversation with the police.

A discussion followed during which a 12 gauge shotgun carried by Wright was discharged through the floor of the living room of the house. Wright told police he was trying to remove the shell when the gun accidentally fired.

Those at the house talked Wright into letting them drive him home. Hanover police were waiting at Wright's home to take him into custody. Wright was then turned over to state police and brought to the jail here.

Wright entered a plea of guilty to the charges before Justice of the Peace Snyder this morning and was returned to jail in default of bail.

200 TOMATO GROWERS END '62 PLANTING

Planting of tomatoes by approximately 200 growers for the C. H. Musselman Company, Biglerville, was virtually completed last week, according to Kenneth S. Alwine, procurement director. "And in record time," he said in comparing the current three-week planting time with 1961 when excessive rains interrupted the operations to a point where final plantings were not completed until early June.

"The 1962 planting season, however, was not without problems," Alwine added, as he pointed out that "the very dry season created problems almost in reverse of those of last year. Adequate rainfall is direly needed now to give the plants a good start. About 5 per cent of the acreage had to be replanted as a result of a severe frost on May 10."

Planting operations in five counties are being directed by these Musselman fieldmen: Earle Garretson, Lynn Smith, Daniel Dentler and Elmer Chronister. Paul Cooley, in charge of plant procurement, has spent several weeks in Georgia coordinating plant shipments with planting operations in Pennsylvania.

SELECT VARIETY

Again this year KC135 is the predominant variety being planted. This variety has become more firmly established with each year's experience because of its high degree of red color and the toughness of skin which makes it resistant to cracking and sunburn, thus appreciably reducing decay during harvesting season. This, in turn, is the best defense against (Continued On Page 3)

TRIO FROM CARNIVAL IS HELD ON BAIL

After a two-hour hearing Saturday before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, two officials of the VFW-sponsored carnival on West St. and John E. Kerrigan, liaison man between the VFW and the carnival, were held for August court on charges of operating gambling concessions on the carnival grounds last Friday night.

Justice Snyder announced his decision after taking testimony from three of the 10 raiding officers and the four Gettysburg College students who signed the informations against the trio. Bail for the two carnival men was set at $2,000 each and Kerrigan's was set at $1,000.

Testimony showed that Harry Westbrook, variously identified as the general manager and as the concessions manager, one of the defendants, had inquired with state police about the "climate" on carnival shows locally and had warnings before the show opened last Monday from the state police and from the District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter that they would be raided if there were complaints about gambling.

STUDENT LOST $40

Westbrook, who offered to take full responsibility for the gambling concessions at the carnival as the hearing opened but was unwilling to sign guilty pleas, said in his own defense: "I can't keep up with all the games. I asked for a (police) inspection but I couldn't get it this week. I'm still willing to make restitution."

Testimony of the college boys showed that their losses and those of their companions varied from a few dollars apiece to $40 in the case of William Huber, 18, Long Island. The other prosecutors, each of whom testified were Gary Grahn, 18, Long Island; Howard Kline, Silver Spring, Md., and Donald Bender, Harmony R. 1.

They described gambling concessions at which they had lost money in efforts to win such prizes as clocks, radios, cameras or dolls. The games involved marbles or other numbered balls which were rolled across a board and dropped into numbered pockets. Certain number combinations, which were determined by a "quick count" by the game operator, added toward the total necessary to win—a total which never was quite reached while the cost of rolls mounted from 10 cents to $1 each.

roy Beach, Fla., was sometimes described as the show's manager of transportation, rides and shows but Westbrook said Dembroski was one of his "bosses." They are employed by the Keystone State Shows with headquarters at Stroudsburg and playing many eastern cities in a season. They said they were scheduled for Dillsburg this week.

Kerrigan did not testify on advice of counsel. None of the defendants was represented at the hearing by legal counsel.

During the lengthy testimony there was a description of the "African Savage" show which both Dembroski and Westbrook said had been closed promptly when complaints were received. Dembroski, who was in charge of the shows, gave the impression that he had never chosen to stay around to watch the gruesome act but as it was pieced together the performer killed a chicken by biting its neck, allowed blood to drip over his chin and neck and then drank or pretended to drink the chicken's blood before tearing the fowl apart to lay its quivering heart in his open hand before the crowd.

"It's a Barnum and Bailey world," Dembroski said. "We've got to have something for everybody's tastes."

Sgt. David K. James and Trooper Charles J. Todd of the state police and Borough Officer Raymond E. Menges were the officers who testified.

CHECK SPACE CRAFT TODAY

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Technicians checked Aurora 7, the Mercury spacecraft of Navy Lt. Cmdr. Malcolm Scott Carpenter, and its Atlas launching rocket in detail today.

If they find no more "bugs" in capsule or missile—if the weather holds—if other factors all are favorable, then the Aurora 7-Atlas combination will blast off next Thursday between 7 a.m. and 2:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

A successful launch would fling Carpenter into the same type of 100-mile high, three-orbit flight that Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. made Feb. 20—but with several new experiments to be performed.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration had planned last week to launch Aurora 7 Tuesday. Discovery of a possible defect in an electrical device that keeps the Atlas flight control system from freezing up forced a postponement of at least two days.

Carpenter's backup pilot is Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra Jr.

But he said he could understand the moves of anyone who went underground to honor previous promises to keep Algeria under the French flag.

BALTIMORE (AP)—U.S. District Judge Roszel C. Thomsen ruled today that the fledgling American Football League was not entitled to any damages because the National Football League expanded from 12 to 14 teams.

the grand jury against the six failed to identify the subject under congressional subcommittee inquiry at the time each witness was interrogated.

Stewart said Congress had expressly provided that no one could be prosecuted for refusal to answer questions of congressional investigators except upon indictment by a grand jury.

"This court has never decided whether the indictment must identify the subject which was under inquiry at the time of the defendant's alleged default or refusal to answer," Stewart continued.

He then stated that the court today was holding that the indictment must contain such an averment, and for this reason the judgments against the six had to be reversed.

During the congressional hearings, none of the six invoked the Fifth Amendment protection against self-incrimination, but emphasized First Amendment guarantees of freedom of speech and press.

remained free of any partisanship. Of all the churches in the community, only the Catholic Church was not used as a stable or for housing troops, he said.

Dr. Coleman said the reason the Catholic Church remained free of damage was because the other ministers all protested to the respective commanders and were assured "something would be done about it." Nothing was, and the churches were used. The Catholic priest, a big burly Irishman, kept a wooden yoke for oxen handy and when cavalrymen appeared to stable horses commented on what would happen to the first man who tried to bring a horse into his church. His threats were effective.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 10 a.m. at the Emig Funeral Home, East Berlin, with his pastor, Rev. Carlton Howells officiating. Interment will be in Holtzschwamm Church Cemetery.

LAST SESSION OF LUTHERAN GROUP OPENS

BUCK HILL FALLS, Pa. (AP)—The Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania convened today for its 215th—and last—annual convention.

This mother synod of the United Lutheran Church will prepare in sessions running through Thursday for a reorganization next October under which it will become the Eastern Pennsylvania Synod of the Lutheran Church in America.

The new Lutheran Church will be formed June 28 in Detroit by a merger of the United Lutheran, American Evangelical Lutheran, Augustana and Finnish Lutheran churches, with 3 million members.

The Pennsylvania Ministerium covers about one third of the state plus Delaware. It has 543 congregations at Erdman, Sacramento and Spring Glen, Pa., to the Central Pennsylvania Synod. The new Eastern Pennsylvania Synod, in turn, will take in the congregations on the state border that now are in the New York Synod and five congregations of the merging Augustana denomination.

Dr. Samuel E. Kidd, in his presidential report prepared for the ministerium, said: "We will be a new synod in a new church and life will be different." He expressed regret that Gettysburg Seminary recently had turned down an invitation to merge with the Philadelphia Seminary as part of the over-all reorganization and merger but noted the Philadelphia Seminary will have the support of seven synods, three more than at present.

Founded in Philadelphia in 1748, the Ministerium of Pennsylvania was the mother synod for synods in New York, Ohio, Maryland, Virginia and western Pennsylvania.

GOP Congress

on demands for fiscal responsibility in government, a field in which Republicans have chalked up a failure.

The Republicans are expected to agree on a strong statement supporting civil rights. They are relatively united in opposition to the administration's farm program, which Eisenhower specifically has criticized.

SEVERAL POINTS OF VIEW

There are several Republican viewpoints on what to do about health care for the elderly, although a majority apparently opposes Kennedy's plan to finance such a program through Social Security taxes.

In the international field, the Republicans are expected to call for firm resistance to Communist encroachments in Berlin and Southeast Asia. They are likely to blame Kennedy for the loss of Cuba. They are certain to leave the door open for future criticism of the President's foreign policy actions.

Eisenhower's advance approval was regarded as a political move by Republican leaders who expect to lean heavily on his services in campaigning for Senate, House and governor candidates in key states.

Among those attending the breakfast-conference were the following: Congressman Mel Laird, Wisconsin; Senator Bourke Hickenlooper, Iowa; Senator Kenneth Keating, New York; Senator Thurston Morton, Kentucky; Senator John Tower, Texas; Congressman James E. Brown, Iowa; Congressman Peter Frelinghuysen, New Jersey; Congressman Charles E. Goodell, New York; Congressman Glenard Lipscomb, California; Congressman Catherine May, Washington; Representatives of the National Republican Committee William Prendergast, Robert Humphrey and Bryce Harlow. Russell Turner was in charge of cameramen.

"Old Guard Fife And Drum Corps" To Play Here May 30

A regiment which traces its history back to the days of George Washington will present here on May 30, in colonial uniform, a concert of the music that the First President enjoyed. They will play before the annual Memorial Day parade.

The "Old Guard Fife and Drum Corps" of the 3rd Infantry Regiment, Fort Myer, Va., will present a 15-minute concert in Lincoln Square, then will play the same numbers used for the same purpose in the pre-Constitution days, for a review of an Honor Guard from the local Army Reserve unit.

Capt. Lee C. Gruber, in a letter to Chester S. Shriver, chairman of the Memorial Day committee, listed the following as the numbers that will be played at the concert here, starting at 1:15 o'clock on the afternoon of May 30: "Crown Point," "The Anvil," "Village Quickstep," "Left, Right, Quickstep," "Grandfather's Clock" and "Steady Step."

LIKE "OLD GUARD"

For the review of the Honor Guard the fife and drum corps will play the "Rose Tree" and "Road to Boston." As the fife and drum corps marches to the parade formation it will play "Turkish March" and "Old Guard."

Stationed at Fort Myer, Va., the 39-man fife and drum corps recreates as accurately as possible the appearance and equipment of the drum corps that would have accompanied the "Old Guard" when it first was established by a resolution of the Continental Congress of 1784 as a measure to protect the young nation following the demobilization of the Revolutionary Army. Its officers and men were made up chiefly of those who had seen service in the Revolution. The regiment took part in its first battle in 1794 when, under command of General "Mad Anthony" Wayne, it defeated the Indians at the battle of Fort Recovery.

The regiment gained its name as the "Old Guard," in 1847 at the capture of Mexico City. As the 3rd came marching at the head of the column into Mexico City General Winfield Scott removed his hat and turning to the members of his staff said "Gentlemen, take off your hats to the Old Guard of the Army," and that name has been retained since.

IN BATTLE HERE

Among the battles in which the 3rd Infantry took part was Gettysburg with Companies D, C, E, F, G, I and K participating in the battle here in 1863.

The costumes worn by the Fife and Drum Corps are based upon details of Revolutionary War costumes and equipment found in the Library of Congress and Smithsonian Institution. The drums are hand-made replicas of 18th century drums and the slings are perfect copies of the drum slings used by Washington's army. The corpsmen march at the "ancient pace" of 100 to 110 steps per minute. The modern army marches at 120 steps per minute.

The music used is copied from the music written for the drum corps of colonial days.

Another duty of the "Old Guard" is to provide the sentinels who maintain the permanent vigil at the Tombs of the Unknown Soldiers in Arlington Cemetery.

200 TOMATO

Drosophila (fruit flies) which has become one of the major problems in tomato growing and processing.

The principal product in the Musselman operation is tomato juice packed in a variety of can sizes. Tomato Puree is also produced at the Biglerville plant. All tomatoes for the operation are purchased under federal-state inspection with each load individually graded.

Last year Pennsylvania tomato growers planted 12,700 acres of tomatoes, an increase of 700 over 1960. The average yield of 12.9 tons per acre topped the previous high of 12.8 tons per acre in 1960. A total of 118 growers qualified for the Master Tomato Growers Club—the largest number of individuals to attain such yields since the club was organized. In 1961 a total of 440 growers reported tomato yields of 10 to 20 tons per acre.

STOCKS DRAGGING

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market dragged its heels with prices moderately lower in slow trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 30 at 240.10 with industrials off 1.90, rails up .20 and utilities unchanged.

Losses of key stocks went generally from fractions to about a point.

Steels, Big Three motors, aerospace issues, electrical equipments, nonferrous metals, tobacco and chemicals were mostly lower. The pattern was irregular among utilities, rails, drugs, oils and rubbers.

Ask Damages For Automobile Crash

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde H. Spangler Jr. and their daughter, Jane Elizabeth Spangler, 120 Hanover St., New Oxford, have brought a trespass suit in county court against William C. Noel, in which they ask damages "in excess of $5,000."

According to the complaint filed in the prothonotary's office this morning for the Spanglers by Attorney J. Francis Yake Jr., the suit stems from an auto accident in New Oxford March 19, 1960, when Miss Spangler was driving her mother's car with her father as a passenger.

According to the complaint, Noel's car crashed into the Spangler vehicle, Miss Spangler suffered a number of injuries including a cerebral concussion, a puncture wound of the throat, lacerations of the knee and over the left eye and injuries to her teeth. She also alleges that corrective surgery will be needed to remove a scar resulting from the injuries. Clyde Spangler suffered lacerations of the knee, lacerations of the forehead and concussions and lost three weeks work as a result of his injuries.

Mrs. Spangler is seeking damages to her car totaling $295, while her husband and daughter seek reimbursement for medical and dental bills, damage to clothing and loss of work plus reimbursement for pain and suffering.

The court this morning set June 5 and 10 a.m. as the time for a hearing of a proposed settlement of the Jane Elizabeth Spangler case for $2,000. The settlement would provide $400 for the attorney, $224 to Clyde Spangler for incidental expenses and $1,374.60 would be placed in a savings account for Miss Spangler to become her property on October 3 when she will be 21.

Fruitgrowers To Hear Weather Man

Walter L. Stirm, of the Weather Bureau Agriculture Service, will speak Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the meeting of the Fruitgrowers Association of Adams County in the Biglerville High School auditorium.

Richard Slaybaugh, Biglerville R. 1, secretary of the fruitgrowers, in announcing the meeting said Stirm "heads the new weather service we have been receiving. I'm sure you will be interested in finding out how the forecasts are made. I know Mr. Stirm will be happy to have any criticism you may have."

Also scheduled to speak are specialists from Pennsylvania State University on the seasonal development of insects and fungi and the materials to be used in combating them.

Can't Use Narcotic In Religious Ritual

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Use of peyote, a cactus-grown narcotic, as a religious ritual is banned in California and this does not constitute violation of religious freedom, the attorney general's office said today.

Members of the Native American Church of the United States retain the Indian belief that the spirit of God resides in peyote.

Members of the church contended their constitutional guarantee of religious freedom was being violated, but the attorney general's office said: "If a law in reasonable pursuance of the objective of protecting health conflicts with one's religious practices, the practices and not the law must yield."

AMA To Answer JFK's Plea For Medical Bill

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Kennedy administration, with the President leading the assault, has carried a plea for its medical care for the aged program across the nation in an attempt to bring pressure to bear on Congress. The American Medical Association goes on nationwide television tonight to counter the move.

While President Kennedy addressed 17,500 persons at New York City's Madison Square Garden Sunday, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and other administration spokesmen sounded calls for support of medical care for the aged under Social Security at more than a score of rallies across the country.

Many listeners, including some gray-haired prospective recipients of benefits under the King-Anderson bill, chanted "We will, we will" when the spokesmen told them to write their congressmen and urge support for the measure.

NATIONWIDE TV

Kennedy, whose speech was carried on nationwide television, predicted that the bill would pass Congress "this year, or, as the tide comes in, next year." He noted that Britain adopted similar legislation 30 years ago.

The American Medical Association, which vigorously opposes the Kennedy-backed measure, takes to the air at 7 p.m. (EST), tonight in a network television program (NBC) designed to answer the administration.

The president of the association, Dr. Leonard W. Larson, blasted the bill and the rallies saying the U.S. Treasury is being looted "in a massive propaganda blitz designed to pressure Congress" into enacting the program.

In a statement after the Kennedy speech, Larson said: "Giant Madison Square Garden rallies cannot conceal this fact: the King-Anderson bill would force an immediate 17 per cent payroll tax increase on workers earning $5,200 or more and their employers."

CALLED RADICAL

Larson described the measure as radical and said it would "give the federal government dangerous power to control medical practice in hospitals."

The AMA favors the present Kerr-Mills law, which provides for federal assistance to states but leaves administration of a program of medical care for indigents over 65 to the states themselves.

Under the King-Anderson measure, Social Security recipients would be eligible for medical aid financed through a Social Security payroll tax increase of one-fourth of one per cent on employees and employers.

The President said at least half the mail he has received on the bill has been "wholly misinformed" about its provisions.

"This is not a campaign against doctors," he said, "because doctors have joined with us. This is a campaign to help people meet their responsibilities."

"We do not cover doctors' bills here. We do not affect the freedom of choice. You can go to any doctor you want, and you work out your arrangements with him. We talk about the hospital bill, and that is an entirely different matter."

Kennedy later visited briefly at Gracie Mansion with 106 mayors from across the country. The mayors, members of the Mayors Committee for Health Care for the Aged Under Social Security, were invited to attend the rally by Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

Vice President Johnson carried the administration plea to St. Louis where he told an openly partisan audience of more than a thousand that the program is a "sound, reasonable and dignified" approach to the health problems of the aged.

2,600 PERSONS FLEE ALGERIA

ALGIERS (AP)—Driven by Secret Army Organization terrorism and the fear of Moslem reprisals, 2,600 Europeans fled Algeria by plane over the weekend.

So great was the demand for air passage that military authorities had to add four planes to 12 flights previously scheduled for Sunday.

In the five days preceding the weekend, officials said about 2,000 persons departed with no apparent intention of returning to terror-plagued Algeria. Outgoing flights normally carry 1,600 passengers a week.

A similar rush for ship passage was reported along the Algiers docks, as alarm spread over increasing slaughter by killers of the Secret Army Organization and the threat of reprisals by Moslem commandos.

All week the airport was jammed, mostly by women, children and elderly persons.

Those with police priority tickets were allowed to board outgoing planes first.

About 15 seats per plane were generally reserved for officials and military personnel and their families. Medical patients and other special cases were also given priority. The rest had to wait their turn.

Today's Talk

IT'S MOST ALL INSIDE

You can have someone photographed or painted, and you see something in the likeness that reminds you of the person portrayed. You can read of the workings of the mind of a person in his book. But, somehow or other, none of us is ever quite able to get the full significance of a motive into our understanding.

It is because motives are the invisible workers of the heart. Even much more mysterious in their effects than the very heart beats that pump life and hope into the body.

Life's great battles are carried on mostly in the heart. And they are inspired and kept on by motives, or spiritual purposes.

You never know what is going on in the inside of an outwardly jolly and seemingly carefree individual. Perhaps he is at that very minute merely veneering a sea of disappointment and despair.

The work of life is carried on outside where all may see. The struggle of life is carried on inside where few, if any, ever have an inkling of what is going on.

The matchless beauty of the Golden Rule and the axiom of "Judge Not" can never go out of style for him who would live a happy and useful life.

The critics of conduct may smile and comment, but the practical fact of their eternal significance remains. Much of the endurance of Christianity rests upon these simple suggestions of conduct.

He who has no bitter rancor in his heart toward any man has released to him the tremendous power of an everlasting influence. And influence permeates like the invisible odor of the rose or violet.

You can sneer at the very beauty and silence of the flowers — but you can't rob them of their God gifts.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Winged Beauty." Protected, 1962, by The George Matthew Adams Service

Just Folks

MIRTH
Were it not for laughter
Life would be drearier;
Mirth must follow after
Care and tragedy
Or we'd dread tomorrow
Bringing further woe
And to newer sorrow
Lack the will to go.

Through whatever tasking
Holds them for a while
All that men are asking
Is the right to smile,
All the bitter battles,
All the things they make,
Like our children's rattle,
Are for laughter's sake.

Peace it is that's shining
In the twinkling eye,
Done is fretful pining,
Done the heavy sigh;
Done the dismal telling
Over hurts and pains,
Peace it is that's dwelling
Where the laughter reigns.

So the end of all things
Is the merry jest,
Large things and the small things,
Great and little test,
Goal of trade and traffic,
Culture, sport and style,
Arts, both stone and graphic,
Is the right to smile.

Japs Offer Job To Don Newcombe

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Newcombe said today the Japanese have offered him more money to play ball in Japan than he was paid by the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1951, the year he won 20 games.

The pitching star, who retired after the 1960 season, said the Dodgers paid him "something less than $20,000" for the 1951 campaign. Newcombe said he is giving "utmost consideration" to the Japanese offer.

The big right-handed hurler said he would play in the outfield with the Chunichi Dragons until he worked into pitching shape.

EIGHT KILLED ON HIGHWAYS OVER WEEKEND

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eight persons were killed in traffic accidents in Pennsylvania over the weekend as warm, balmy weather with temperatures in the 90s sent thousands to the roads.

The victims:
Philadelphia — Leo DeFranco, 15, Philadelphia, drowned Sunday when he plunged into a creek near a golf course while searching for golf balls. Two companions said DeFranco thought the water was shallow.

ANOTHER YANK DISILLUSIONED WITH RUSSIA

ZELIENOPLE, Pa. (AP) — Robert Webster, who gave up his American citizenship in the Soviet Union in 1959, has returned home disillusioned and tired but with hopes of undoing "the wrong I did."

Webster, 33, a former plastic technician in Cleveland, Ohio, arrived at Greater Pittsburgh Airport from New York Sunday night. He rode some 20 miles by taxicab to Zelienople where he went into seclusion at his father's home.

Webster, who left his wife and two children behind when he defected after going to the Soviet Union in 1959 to set up a Rand Corp. plastics exhibit in Moscow, said he would take any job he can get.

MAY GET JOB
James Rand III, president of the Rand Corp., has said he felt a responsibility for Webster and would attempt to get him a job, though not with Rand's own firm.

Webster, wearing the same blue suit he bought in Cleveland and wore to the U.S.S.R., said he had no immediate plans except that he wanted "to rest a little." He told newsmen he was confused and tired. He also appeared nervous.

In New York he told newsmen he hoped for a reconciliation with his former wife, Martha, who has divorced him. She lives with their children in the Zelienople area where they both grew up.

The U.S. Embassy in Moscow said it was informed Webster left behind a Russian girl and her baby in Leningrad when he returned to this country.

HOME TO STAY
Webster said he is in America to stay.

"I missed my children and family and wife, of course," he said. "They treated me well in Russia but I don't want to go back."

Webster, who worked as a plastics technician in the Soviet Union with a salary he termed equivalent to $500 a month, said he had made a big mistake and wanted to rectify it.

Webster turned in his passport and renounced his U.S. citizenship in October 1959. Three months later he applied for a permit to re-enter the United States but was refused.

He is here on a Soviet passport which, he said, is for an indefinite period. Webster must seek American citizenship in the same manner as foreign-born immigrants.

MODEL LEGLINE. A lovely asks: How is it that my sister's leg measurements are larger than mine, yet her legs look slimmer? It's maddening. I work so hard to keep trim. Maybe I've developed too much muscle. Information, please!

The Answer: Unless a woman trains like an athlete, she would be unlikely to develop sufficient muscle to overpad her leg measurements. Her calf might knot in a muscular bulge, if she made a habit of wearing loose-fitting flats. Just keeping them on keeps the muscles working overtime.

Model leg measurements differ with individuals, even with sisters. The measurements would only be the same for women of the same height and bony structure. To calculate your ideal proportions, take these steps:

1. Measure height without heels and ankle around widest part. 2. Locate height on chart below and note ankle measurements along side.

Height Ankle
5'0"—5'3" 7 1/2"
5'4"—5'6" 8"
5'7"—5'9" 8 1/2"
Over 5'9" 9"+

Consider ankle measurement as perfect for you, if your bones are average size. But add an inch if large-boned; for delicate structure, subtract an inch.

3. Mid-calf should measure 5" more than ideal ankle and mid-thigh 6" more than calf.

Plainly, a trim legline is a matter of proportion. Your own!

BELINSKY EYES TOP ROOKIE

BOSTON (AP) — Robert (Bo) Belinsky has a commanding lead for American League rookie of the year honors and the cocky southpaw isn't pausing for a backward glance. He's eyeing the future.

"He had just as good stuff today as he did in his no-hitter against Baltimore," Los Angeles Angels' Manager Bill Rigney said Sunday night, after Belinsky shut out Boston 1-0 on two hits.

Belinsky currently boasts a 6-1 record and a glossy 2.61 earned run average.

Pete Runnels beat out a topped infield roller for a hit as the first man to face Belinsky, in the second game of a doubleheader. Rookie Bob Tiltman doubled high off the left field wall in the fourth for the other hit.

"Naturally, I'm pleased," Belinsky said. "I didn't think my fast ball was as fast as usual. I used the screwball a lot and kept it low. The big thing was that I got the curve over when I needed it."

Belinsky wanted to talk about the future. "When I get to the point of facing the teams the second time around in the league, I'll use my curve more and more. But until I know the hitters better, I'll stick mostly to the fast stuff."

Springs Open invitational golf tournaments.

The 27-year-old Johnston drilled his seven-footer Sunday after Collins, of Miami, Fla., already had dropped a six-foot putt for a par three on the 135-yard hole.

Johnston zipped from two strokes behind Collins into a tie at 273 with a 6-under-par 66 in the final round Collins closed with a 68, missing a five-foot putt for an eagle and victory on the par-5 18th.

A native of Scotland, Johnston moved to Montreal in 1954, and has been playing on the Professional Golfers' Association circuit about a year and a half. Prior to the Hot Springs Open, his best showing had been a sixth in the Greater Greensboro Open.

Last year's winner, Doug Sanders of Ojai, Calif., finished at 284 in a tie for 18th. Buster Cupit of Fort Smith, Ark., was third at 275 with a 70.

CYRUS VANCE IS APPOINTED TO ARMY POST

By LARRY OSIUS

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Cyrus Roberts Vance, hard-working general counsel for the Department of Defense, has been named to succeed Elvis J. Stahr Jr. as secretary of the Army.

President Kennedy announced the appointment, subject to Senate confirmation, in New York Sunday. Stahr is resigning as of June 30 to become president of the University of Indiana.

Vance, 45, is a former naval officer and Yale-educated Wall Street attorney. He entered government work in 1957 as special counsel of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, then headed by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

JRD JOHNSON MAN

He is the third Johnson man to hold a secretaryship at the Pentagon. Both former Secretary of the Navy John Connally—whose house Vance recently bought—and Connally's successor, Fred Korth, are Texans and friends of Johnson.

Vance was named general counsel for the Defense Department Jan. 29, 1961. Shortly afterward, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara gave him the additional responsibility for management and organizational planning within the department. His new job pays $22,000 a year.

Among his Pentagon colleagues he has a reputation for a calm, quiet, objective approach to problems, an incisive mind, and long, long hours.

CALL GUIDO A DICTATOR

By ROMAN JIMENEZ

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — President Jose Maria Guido today was accused of returning dictatorship to Argentina by sending Congress into a long recess and suspending political parties. His purpose was to purge Peronists from political life.

Backed by the military chiefs who put him in to replace ousted President Arturo Frondizi three months ago, the mild-mannered small-town lawyer who said he never aspired to power now will govern by decree for at least a year.

Guido's dictatorship was confronted with an immediate test of strength as workers on the government-run railroads began a 24-hour strike at midnight to protest delays in payment of salaries and pensions.

CRITICS IN PARTY
Union leaders rebuffed attempts by Economics Minister Alvaro Asagoray to stall off the walkout to give the regime time to bring the nation out of what the government called a financial crisis of the most serious character.

Guido came under fire from leaders of his own Intransigent Radical party and the opposition groups for his orders recessing Congress for a year and sidelining political parties by ordering them to reorganize.

In his orders issued after a six-hour Cabinet session, Guido said a new Congress would be elected next March 31 and a presidential election would be held by October 1963.

Stengel's Mets Win 9 Of 12 Games After Twin-bill Win Sunday; Phils Lose 2

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

They haven't started printing the tickets yet, but some of the more frivolous types are starting to talk about a subway series.

Of course, there's always the chance the New York Yankees won't make it, but how about these Mets? The darlings of New York—an odd-lot collection of expendables—suddenly are the hottest team in baseball.

Casey Stengel's amazing Mets—who must be gasping for air in the giddy, rarefied heights of eighth place in the National League—swept a double header from Milwaukee's stricken Braves, 7-6 and 9-6 Sunday making their recent record seven victories in nine starts.

GIANTS SPLIT

San Francisco's leading Giants split a pair, losing to Houston 6-5 in the first and taking the second 7-4. St. Louis replaced Los Angeles in second place with a 4-3 edge over the Dodgers; Pittsburgh trounced Cincinnati 8-2 behind Vern Law, and Chicago's Ken Hubbs stroked eight hits in the Cubs' two victories over Philadelphia, 6-4 and 11-2.

But the biggest surprise has to be Stengel's Mets. There is still an air of the Keystone Cops about this crew that lost nine straight at the start of the season—they flounder about and sometimes run into each other. But somehow Stengel, the old master manipulator, has them winning. They've won nine of their last 12 and are 12-10 since the opening string of losses—which would be good enough for a first-division berth.

The Mets trailed 5-1 in the first game and 3-1 in the second. Roy McMillan's two-run error in the eighth let in the deciding runs in the opener. Home runs by Frank Thomas, Charlie Neal and Felix Mantilla featured the winning rally in the nightcap.

MARICHAL LOSES

Thomas, in addition to his 11th homer, had three other hits in the day's work and drove in five runs. Lefties Ken MacKenzie (2-1) and Al Jackson (2-4) were the winners.

The five-hit pitching of Bob Bruce (2-1) and a four-run third inning were the keys to Houston's first-game triumph over Juan Marichal (7-3) and San Francisco. Giant lefty Billy Pierce (7-0) got the benefit of a six-run first inning and had little trouble in winning the nightcap, though touched for a two-run homer by Bob Aspromonte.

Stan Musial, who got the 3,431st hit of his career for a National League record Saturday, sat out St. Louis' game at Los Angeles, and the Cards completed the sweep of the three-game set. They provided Curt Simmons (6-1) with a 4-0 lead in the sixth and his seven-hit pitching made it stand up.

STANDING OVATION

Vern Law, making a comeback from a shoulder injury, got a standing ovation from the Pittsburgh crowd after going the distance in beating Cincinnati. He spaced eight hits in winning his first game since June 11, 1961, and went the distance for the first time since Sept. 18, 1960. He has lost one this season.

Hubbs, a rookie second baseman for the Cubs, had eight singles in 10 times at bat as the free-swinging Cubs collected a total of 27 hits. Lou Brock had a grand slam homer to help rookie Cal Koonce (2-0) win the first. Bob Buhl (2-2) had a four-hitter and was backed up by homers by Willie Williams, George Altman and Ernie Banks in the second.

New Race Season Opens At Lincoln

Gene Gooding of Stoverstown and Joe Laudenslager from Harrisburg won the sportsman-modified and strictly stock features respectively at Lincoln Speedway Saturday night.

Trailing Gooding home in the 25-lap sportsman-modified was Willie Musselman of Hanover in second place and Bobby Gerhart of Lebanon third. Gooding and Pete Kantorsky of Baltimore won the heat race.

Lebanon's Gene Nauman was second in the 20-lap stock main event and Manny Christine of Dover was third. Rich Christine from Thomasville and Irvin of York won the heat events.

Another program is listed for Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

GAINS SCHOLARSHIP

A full four-year scholarship to Villanova University, near Philadelphia, has been awarded to Richard John Rosensteel, 17, a graduating senior at Delone Catholic High School, McSherrystown, where he starred in football.

FAIL TO SCORE

Entries from Gettysburg, Biglerville and Bermudian Springs High School failed to score in the annual District 3, PIAA track meet held Saturday at Lancaster.

Littlestown Little League

Three doubles in the third inning gave the Cardinals a 3-1 victory over the Pirates as the Littlestown Little League opened its season Saturday afternoon at McSherry Field, Littlestown. By pre-game arrangement, the game was held to four innings.

Atty. Eugene Hartman, Gettysburg, spoke briefly at the opening game ceremonies urging the 125 Little Leaguers to play to win in whatever they do but to always remain good sports when they lose. His speech followed a parade through Littlestown which was led by the Littlestown High School Band.

Harold Bancroft, commander of the Littlestown Veterans of Foreign Wars, presented the league with a new 30-star flag during the ceremonies to be used at McSherry Field. The VFW is one of six sponsoring organizations of the league.

Successive doubles by Dave Klunk, Chris Senz and Lou Waltz accounted for the winning runs in the bottom of the third.

In the opening inning the Cardinals scored a run on a walk and two errors, Klunk racing over with the score.

The Pirates tallied their lone tally in the top of the third on a pair of walks and two singles, Don Staub scoring.

Following the game over $200 was awarded in merchandise certificates, donated by the members of the Littlestown Chamber of Commerce.

Tonight the Cardinals will meet the Phils, defending league champs, at 6:30.

It had previously been announced the Taneytown-Littlestown game would be held at a later date and there was no previous announcement of the rescheduling of the game.

Gettysburg sustained its third loss in four outings when Bonneauville snapped a three-game losing streak in winning on the local field 5-1.

Ronald Weigle pitched and batted New Oxford to a 13-0 overirading Cashtown. He allowed only two hits, fanned 12 and walked one while smacking a bases-loaded home run in the sixth inning. John King poled a two-run homer and G. Billman a circuit blow with none on base. Cashtown's hits were doubles by Richardson and Chapman.

TOSSER ONE-HIT
Dick Pitzer, Arendtsville, also turned in a brilliant one-hit pitching performance in his 9-0 triumph over Brushdown at Arendtsville. Neiderer secured a single to spoil his no-hit effort. Shultz led the winners' eight-hit attack with a pair of singles and a double.

A four-run second inning, featured by hits by McClellan and Johnston, led Mummasburg to a 6-2 triumph at McSherrystown. Ron Aspers and Gene Groff poled two hits each for the losers, one of Aspers' hits sending B. J. Smith across the plate in fifth. A triple by Burnell Bevenour and single by Pete Lehigh accounted for the other McSherrystown run.

G-BURG NINTH IN MAC TRACK, FIELD MEET

The Gettysburg College track team, slightly undermanned due to examinations and injuries, placed ninth in a field of 10 schools in the university division of the annual Middle Atlantic Conference track and field championships Friday and Saturday at Rutgers University.

The Bullets picked up 3 1/2 points. Bucknell finished last without scoring a point in the tough competitive field. Gettysburg's lone points were scored by Lane Kneeder and Dick Slower. Kneeder tied for second in the high jump with a leap of 5'10". Clower came in fifth in the javelin with a throw of 181'. Eddie Salmon finished sixth and out of the running in the two-mile run. Salmon competed in just the one event.

St. Joseph's, defending champion, won its fifth title in six years by rolling up 65 points to easily outdistance second place Delaware which netted 40 1/2. Following the front runners were Temple, 35 1/2; LaSalle, 27; Rutgers, 21; Lafayette, 16; Lehigh, 10; Muhlenberg, 5; Gettysburg, 3 1/2, and Bucknell, 0.

West Chester State College easily defended its college division title as it compiled 54 1/2 points compared to second-place Swarthmore's 28 1/2.

CHICAGO (AP)—A Williamsport, Pa., man says tests have shown the hard plastic football helmet offers more protection than the leather helmet.

In a speech Saturday before the American Medical Association's National Conference on Head Protection, Creighton J. Hale, Ph.D., said, "Of all the records I have analyzed on football injuries, I have yet to find a fatal injury that was caused by a football helmet to an opponent."

Local Golfers Do Well In Tourney

Creditable scores were recorded by Gettysburg Country Club golfers who participated in the best-of-partners tourney which was held over the weekend at Hershey. Dick Burgoon, Carlisle, and Bob Davies, Hershey CC, retained their championship with a 142.

In the championship flight Dr. G. Donald Wickerham, Gettysburg, and Dr. John Mohr, Corry, fired a 151.

Bob Davies, Gettysburg, and Bill Lewis, West Shore, recorded a 149 in the first flight; Dr. Robert Lefever and Eddie Plank, Gettysburg, turned in a 162 in the second flight; Tom Cline and Russ Maitland, Gettysburg, shot a 156 in the third flight and Ron Wenk and Tom Cline recorded a 157 in the fourth flight.

Saddler said Patterson and Liston have been offered a guarantee of $750,000 to fight in Detroit, with Patterson taking a two-thirds share and Liston one-third.

MAY RENT PARK
Saddler said tentative agreement has been made with Detroit Tiger officials for rental of the ball park on Sept. 17, with the following three days available in case of rain.

Gudelsky said he would want to go over a few things with Liston before granting him a license. He also said he would insist that Michigan's new 90-second rule be enforced in a heavyweight title fight.

The rule, created after the fight death of Benny (Kid) Paret in New York earlier this year, established a 90-second rest period between rounds.

ROBERTS SIGNS WITH ORIOLES
CLEVELAND (AP)—Robin Roberts, the pitching star who won 234 games during 14 seasons with the Philadelphia Phillies, was signed today by the Baltimore Orioles.

The 35-year-old right-hander was expected to join the Orioles tonight in Cleveland.

Roberts was sold by the Phillies after a disappointing 1-10 record last year, and he failed to stick with the New York Yankees during a spring trial.

The Orioles did not disclose salary terms, but said Roberts would receive the same pay he would have received from the Yankees. He is believed to be in the $300,000-a-year bracket.

At his peak, when he won at least 20 games for six consecutive seasons (1950-55), Roberts was paid an estimated $50,000 a year. Roberts visited Baltimore May 11 for a workout under almost secret conditions. He impressed manager Billy Hitchcock and the Orioles coaches with his performance.

FOUR ROOKIES IN
Former winners in the field are Troy Ruttman, Dearborn, Mich., 1952; A. J. Foyt Jr., Houston, Tex., last year's champ; Jim Rathman, Melbourne, Fla., 1960, and Rodger Ward, Indianapolis, 1959.

The five rookies who made the field were Jim McElreath, Arlington, Tex., one of seven drivers who did 1949 or better; Dan Gurney, Costa Mesa, Calif., in the only car not powered by an Offenhauser engine; Chuck Hulse, Downey, Ill.; Chuck Rodee, Indianapolis, and Allen Crowne, Indianapolis.

Duncan Bossle of the Mount took a second place in the broad jump and third place in the 100-yard dash while John Dolan was third in the 440-yard hurdles.

Krausse To Miss 2 Pitching Turns
BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—Pitcher Lew Krausse's physician said today his patient would miss one or two pitching turns because of an elbow injury.

Krausse, hurler for the Binghamton Triplets in the Eastern Baseball League, left the game against Williamsport in the seventh inning Friday night and went to a hospital for X-rays.

His physician said Krausse was suffering from a tear of the olecranon, the bony prominence at the back of the elbow.

Rest will take care of the injury, he said.

DETROIT BEATS DRUMS TO GET HEAVY BATTLE

DETROIT (AP)—A campaign to drum up enthusiasm for a Detroit staging of the proposed Floyd Patterson - Sonny Liston heavyweight title showdown was in progress in Detroit today.

Leon Saddler, a local boxing promoter, said "only a few financial details" stand in the way of a meeting between world champion Patterson and challenger Liston in Tiger Stadium Sept. 17.

David Gudelsky, the state boxing commissioner, said he expected Liston, denied a license by New York State because of his police record, could be approved to box in Michigan.

Saddler said Patterson and Liston have been offered a guarantee of $750,000 to fight in Detroit, with Patterson taking a two-thirds share and Liston one-third.

MAY RENT PARK
Saddler said tentative agreement has been made with Detroit Tiger officials for rental of the ball park on Sept. 17, with the following three days available in case of rain.

Gudelsky said he would want to go over a few things with Liston before granting him a license. He also said he would insist that Michigan's new 90-second rule be enforced in a heavyweight title fight.

The rule, created after the fight death of Benny (Kid) Paret in New York earlier this year, established a 90-second rest period between rounds.

ROBERTS SIGNS WITH ORIOLES
CLEVELAND (AP)—Robin Roberts, the pitching star who won 234 games during 14 seasons with the Philadelphia Phillies, was signed today by the Baltimore Orioles.

The 35-year-old right-hander was expected to join the Orioles tonight in Cleveland.

Roberts was sold by the Phillies after a disappointing 1-10 record last year, and he failed to stick with the New York Yankees during a spring trial.

The Orioles did not disclose salary terms, but said Roberts would receive the same pay he would have received from the Yankees. He is believed to be in the $300,000-a-year bracket.

At his peak, when he won at least 20 games for six consecutive seasons (1950-55), Roberts was paid an estimated $50,000 a year. Roberts visited Baltimore May 11 for a workout under almost secret conditions. He impressed manager Billy Hitchcock and the Orioles coaches with his performance.

FOUR ROOKIES IN
Former winners in the field are Troy Ruttman, Dearborn, Mich., 1952; A. J. Foyt Jr., Houston, Tex., last year's champ; Jim Rathman, Melbourne, Fla., 1960, and Rodger Ward, Indianapolis, 1959.

The five rookies who made the field were Jim McElreath, Arlington, Tex., one of seven drivers who did 1949 or better; Dan Gurney, Costa Mesa, Calif., in the only car not powered by an Offenhauser engine; Chuck Hulse, Downey, Ill.; Chuck Rodee, Indianapolis, and Allen Crowne, Indianapolis.

Duncan Bossle of the Mount took a second place in the broad jump and third place in the 100-yard dash while John Dolan was third in the 440-yard hurdles.

Krausse To Miss 2 Pitching Turns
BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—Pitcher Lew Krausse's physician said today his patient would miss one or two pitching turns because of an elbow injury.

Krausse, hurler for the Binghamton Triplets in the Eastern Baseball League, left the game against Williamsport in the seventh inning Friday night and went to a hospital for X-rays.

His physician said Krausse was suffering from a tear of the olecranon, the bony prominence at the back of the elbow.

Rest will take care of the injury, he said.

Angels' Bo Belinsky Has Two-Hitter; Orioles Lose Two; Other Teams Split

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
It is a little early but Bo Belinsky has to be the people's choice to pitch the All-Star game. Make it both of them. The way the Los Angeles Angels are flying he might even make it to the World Series.

If Bo was bothered by any "no-hit game jinx" he dunked that 8-ball in the corner pocket Sunday when he threw a two-hitter at the Boston Red Sox. It was his second victory but first complete game since the no-hitter against Baltimore May 5.

Five Angel pitchers teamed up to check the Red Sox in the 5-3 opener but it was lefty Bo all by himself in the 1-0 second game. The colorful rookie threw out six batters and allowed only three balls to be hit to the outfield. There was not any no-hit suspense about this one for Pete Ruzelski, the leadoff man in the first, beat out a slow roller for a hit. Rookie Bob Tiltman's double in the fourth was the other hit. Lee Thomas' single drove in Leon Wagner with the only run in the third.

He landed on Edward Thomas, 12, and Ernie Samville, 13, both of Haddonfield, N.J. They were leaning forward or sideways in their seats and thus escaped the full brunt of the impact, shared by the backs of their seats.

All required hospital treatment. None suffered any apparent serious injury.

President Kennedy's new farm proposals aimed at reducing multi-billion-dollar costs and surpluses.

"But it's a difficult piece of legislation," the soft-spoken Democratic leader told a reporter. "It may take most of the week."

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., senior GOP member of the Senate Agriculture Committee and a veteran of congressional farm battles, agreed in a separate interview that senators face a dispute that may echo in this year's congressional elections.

"This administration has been playing favorites with its farm programs and the farmers are not asking the drastic proposals it advances," the white-haired Vermont senator said.

ACT WEDNESDAY

While the Senate argues about the farm programs, House leaders have called for action Wednesday on a new authorization of nearly $4 billion for the nation's space programs.

Routine matters are listed for House action today and Tuesday with no ones scheduled. The space authorization carries $3,742,162,800, which is $111 million below the President's request.

Agriculture outlays in recent years have been around $6 billion a year. Another $9 billion is tied up in storage of surplus corn, wheat, cotton and other commodities.

As reported by the Senate Agriculture Committee, the 84-page farm bill retains few of the Kennedy administration's original requests.

DROP DAIRY BILL

Dropped completely was a dairy support program involving supply controls and a tight acreage and marketing control proposal for corn and other livestock feed grains.

Mansfield said the effort to restore this latter proposal will be led by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, Sen. Robert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., and Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said in a speech prepared for delivery to the Senate that he would seek to amend the bill with a substitute dairy section.

In place of the mandatory supply controls removed by the committee, Proxmire proposed price supports of up to 90 per cent of parity for dairy producers voluntarily agreeing to produce no more than their 1961-62 base.

Neither the administration request nor the Senate bill would make any changes in federal programs for basic crops produced in the South, including cotton, tobacco, rice and peanuts.

Shell dealers suggest 15 ways to make your car last longer

Shell scientists dedicate their working lives to the care and feeding of automobiles.

They can offer dozens of tips on prolonging the life of what is probably your second biggest investment. Here are some useful samples:

1. Learn to read tail pipe smoke signals. Blue smoke means too much oil is getting into the combustion chambers. Your piston rings may be worn. Black smoke is an indication of too much gasoline in the air-fuel mixture. Your carburetor may need an adjustment. White smoke is mostly water vapor. Don't worry about it.
2. Check wheel alignment at least twice a year. An out-of-line wheel can increase tire wear as much as 50 percent. Also, keep your wheels balanced. An unbalanced wheel pounds the tire against the pavement, wearing the tread unevenly.
3. Rotate tires every 6,000 miles. Be sure to include your spare. This helps tires wear evenly, last longer. Your Shell dealer can take care of this for you.
4. Avoid high speeds and save your tires. High speeds increase tire wear drastically—by as much as 80% over normal wear.
5. Use your engine to save your brake linings. Try to avoid hard, sudden braking. When you see you'll have to slow down, take your foot off the accelerator early and let the engine's compression do some of the job.
6. Warm up slowly. Racing an engine to warm it up ages it fast. A short warm-up at moderate speed is good for your car even in summer. But never race your cold engine to warm up. It may damage critical working parts before lubrication can be fully established.
7. Have your engine's spark timing set to proper specifications. Spark timing determines whether your plugs fire at the right instant. With incorrect timing, you can lose power and mileage. Also, your car may knock. And chronic knocking can damage your engine.
8. Use a gasoline that controls knock. If your engine persists in knocking, you may need a gasoline with more anti-knock components, for a higher octane rating. Super Shell contains all of the anti-knock ingredients required to help your car deliver knock-free performance.
9. Have your oil checked whenever you fill up with gasoline. Oil does not wear out. But it can be lost through leaks or burning. And it does get dirty. Worse yet, oil can become contaminated by combustion by-products—including acid. Suggestion: use new Shell X-100® Premium Motor Oil. It fights engine acid and four other troubles that can shorten engine life.
10. Change your oil filter element regularly. The filter is designed to catch and hold foreign particles so they can't get into your engine. Replacing the filter element at regular intervals helps your engine last longer.
11. Have your car's cooling system checked in spring and fall. Cooling system rust inhibitors can wear out. Rust, corrosion and sediment may then start to form. In the spring, let your Shell dealer inspect your entire cooling system. When he drains and refills, he'll add a special Cooling System Protector.

In the fall, you get a free cooling system inspection when you have Shellzone anti-freeze put in by your Shell dealer.

12. Get a lubrication job regularly. Dirt and moisture can work into chassis joints and bushings, causing friction and wear. Grease can also eventually pound out, leaving the parts unprotected.

Shell lubrication at regular intervals helps protect those vital parts.

13. Keep door and body panel drain holes clear to foil rust. There are little drain holes at the bottom of body panels and doors. They can get clogged so that the panels actually hold water. Result: Rust forms more easily, can eat through the metal. Make sure drain holes are clear.

14. "Bandage" minor scratches in your car's finish. Until you can have the scratches refinished, keep rust from forming with a coat of touch-up paint or a strip of cellulose tape.

15. Let your Shell dealer help your car last longer. Your car may have cost you thousands of dollars. Treat it carefully. Feed it well. Let your Shell dealer help you on both counts. You will save money—and increase your driving pleasure, too.

School Subsidies Always A Major Issue In State

By FRED WALTERS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The state constitution of 1874 requires the legislature to "provide for the maintenance and support of a thorough and efficient system of public schools."

This provision—Article X, Section 1—forms the basis of the annual legislative battles over state aid to schools.

The basic issue is: Who should provide the greater share of the millions needed, the state or the local district?

All the Constitution says is that the legislature shall appropriate at least $1 million each year. "Those were the good old taxpaying days."

Although the next legislative session is more than seven months away, the issue of school subsidies is never far from the minds of those most intimately involved.

TAX COLLECTIONS

Just this week, for instance, the Pennsylvania State Education Association's weekly "Bulletin" published a table showing comparative sales tax collections in 1961 among Pennsylvania and several other states.

Although the total Pennsylvania collection — $344.9 million — was among the highest, the average per citizen — $30.47 — was among the lowest.

The PSEA, long an advocate of increased state aid, concluded:

"Ascending as it may seem in the face of current propaganda, Pennsylvania is actually lagging behind other comparable states in revenue received from (sales) taxes . . . (the table) clearly shows that Pennsylvania's sales tax is not the terrible burden per capita that the many would have us think."

NEED MORE TAXES

"The increasing educational need of the public-school pupils of Pennsylvania and the fact that many systems throughout the state have reached the limits of their taxing ability, mandate a need for additional state aid for public schools. The relatively low state tax effort per capita would seem to indicate that such an increase in state aid through increased taxes is both reasonable and desirable."

The above statement that the school districts have reached the limits of their tax resources, however, is in dispute among educators and budget experts.

Also this week, the Governor's Committee of 100 (citizens) for Better Education published an analysis of local school tax collections.

COLLECTIONS INCREASE

It showed that in the last two years, local tax collections increased 22.5 per cent, or $87.7 million. In this period, state expenditures for the public schools increased only about $20 million.

The formula under which the state aids its schools has remained the same since 1957.

This slowed down and even reversed the 20-year trend that had showed the state's share of public education grew from about 20 per cent to 45 per cent. In the 1960-61 school year it was an estimated 41-42 per cent.

Around the nation, the most recent survey available (1958-59) had showed the states' shares ranging from about 80 per cent to 5 per cent. The national average was 39.7 per cent.

VOTE ON MERGER

In 22 areas of the state last Tuesday, voters balloted on the question of school mergers or unions. In a union, each district proposed to join must turn in a majority or two-thirds question fails. There were eight such unions before the voters and only one passed.

In a merger, any district involved that rejects the proposal is dropped out but the other districts may form the merged district. There were 14 such proposals and 12 mergers were approved.

In all, 78 districts voted on one or the other question and 44 approved it.

during a camping trip Sunday.

State police arrested four Philadelphia men and charged them with assault with intent to commit murder.

In serious condition was William H. Webb of Wilmington. He and six members of his troops were on an overnight camping trip.

One of the scouts, John T. Clark, 13, told police a car awakened the campers. Webb noticed the Scouts fishing gear was missing and went to question the men in the car.

The Scouts said the men knocked Webb to the ground and kicked him and beat him with rocks and tree limbs even after he was unconscious. Two Scouts summoned police while the remaining four stayed at the campsite.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Springfield Giants, last year's Eastern League champs, were this year's champs when they were able to win only 3 of their first 11 games.

But now the Giants have regained their championship form. They're on the move with a six-game winning streak that has vaulted them into third place, only a game behind second-place Charleston and 2½ games from from-running Williamsport.

Fresh from a 2-1, 6-4 double-header sweep of Elmira Sunday on home runs the Giants tonight have an opportunity to gain more ground when they open a home series against Williamsport.

In other games Sunday, Williamsport came from behind twice to defeat Binghamton 11-7 and York beat Charleston 2-0 by the eight-inning pitching of south-

York's Wilbur Wood. Springfield's sweep put the Giants over the .500 mark for the first time this season, giving them a 14-12 mark.

SHOW OF WEEK
RESULTS VERY BIG LETDOWN

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC's "Show of the Week" series, which has tried just about everything from documentary to musical comedy this season, with, for the most part, disappointing results, essayed an adult war drama Sunday night.

At least, I'm pretty sure it was an adult war drama: Sal Mineo in a week's growth of beard played a trigger-happy soldier and was permitted to use cuss-words a couple of times.

The show was called "A Sound of Hunting," adapted from a Broadway play of a number of seasons back. It didn't get far then and it was pretty static and talky Sunday night. It concerned a World War II Army squad in a forward position fretting about a comrade pinned down by an enemy machine gun. The squad members revealed their character reaction to the man's plight.

Can they withdraw without trying to save their comrade? Not if you know your war drama — or more likely, the characters. There were the wisecracking fellow with

LITTLE LEAGUE
SEASON OPENS WITH PARADE

The Littlestown Little League season was officially opened with ceremonies on Saturday afternoon on McSherry Field, when several hundred persons attended. Many fans witnessed the parade of the Little Leagueurs to the field from the Maple Avenue School to the square and then to the field. The line or march also included: the Littlestown High School Gold Band, the Scottettes Majorette group, borough officials and league sponsor representatives.

Eugene Hartman, Gettysburg attorney, was speaker. He stressed the character building aspects of baseball for boys, advising them to always play the game to the best of their ability and telling their parents and friends that according to statistics, boys who play Little League baseball very seldom get into trouble.

Dick Selby, president of the Littlestown Little League, introduced the speaker and representatives of the league sponsors, Rotary, Lions, VFW, Legion, Eagles and Junior Chamber of Commerce, as well as Mayor Earl L. Stites and Lewis H. Fox, president of the borough council.

Pregame ceremonies and the parade were arranged by the Littlestown Chamber of Commerce. Marvin F. Breighner, president, and the following merchants were the heart of gold, the worrier, the homesick boy — all larger than life and all true.

COWBOYS AROUND

Old cowboys, it must be apparent, never die—not on television anyway. They don't even fade away. "Wyatt Earp," "Bat Masterson," Roy Rogers, Hopalong Cassidy, and most of the others who have finished their prime time first runs are still very much around on the repeat circuit.

Three bus loads of the Eastman Kodak Retired Group of Florida spent the weekend at the Howard Johnson Motor Lodge. They arrived late Sunday afternoon.

Science Shrinks Piles
New Way Without Surgery
Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Get Free Rides On Railroad In England

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret's husband and his heirs can ride free up and down the Welsh mountain from which he took his title.

Antony Armstrong-Jones, when he became an earl after his royal marriage, named himself after 3,560-foot Mt. Snowdon, the highest in England and Wales.

The Snowdon Mountain Railway Co. has ordered a gold medal for Lord Snowdon showing one of its locomotives on the way up the mountain and on the other side an inscription superimposed on the red dragon of Wales.

When Snowdon or his heirs flash the medal, they can ride free on the narrow gauge railroad which opened in 1896. A round trip ticket at the height of the season costs $3.50.

WE ALREADY HAVE...

MEDICAL CARE FOR THE AGED

The Kerr-Mills Law was passed by Congress in 1960 to allow Pennsylvania (and all other states) to provide medical care and hospitalization to persons over 65 who need help. This law deserves continued support and improved implementation by our state officials.

Without giving the Kerr-Mills Law a fair chance, the Federal Administration and some members of Congress are now urging passage of the Social Security financed King-Anderson Bill.

THE KING-ANDERSON BILL, NOW BEFORE CONGRESS, WOULD PROVIDE LIMITED HEALTH CARE BENEFITS FOR PERSONS OVER 65 ELIGIBLE FOR SOCIAL SECURITY, BUT YOU ARE ENTITLED TO KNOW WHAT APPEARS IN THE "FINE PRINT" OF THE BILL.

- It would force every worker to pay 17% more payroll taxes to provide benefits for millions of the wealthy and self-reliant who can well afford to take care of themselves.
- It would not provide any benefits to the 3,500,000 not covered by Social Security—the group most in need.
- It would cover less than 25% of the health care costs of those eligible for the benefits.
- It would not cover your doctor bill (family doctor, surgeon, etc.)
- It would not provide nursing home care unless the patient first was admitted to a hospital.
- It would not be an "insurance" program... it would be a tax and welfare plan.
- It provides that hospitals and nursing homes must operate under regulations established by the Federal Government.
- It would cost each beneficiary $90.00 for the first nine days of hospitalization (minimum $20.00).
- It would cost each out-patient beneficiary $20.00 for each complete diagnostic study.
- It would be socialized medicine for that part of the population covered.

EVERY AMERICAN who realizes the importance of free enterprise in the United States should WRITE HIS CONGRESSMAN in Washington 25, D. C. Urge him to vigorously oppose the King-Anderson Bill. LET'S KEEP POLITICS OUT OF MEDICINE!

Centaur Project To Provide Many Answers Of Outer Space

By GEOFFREY GOULD
WASHINGTON (AP)—On May 8 at 2:49 p.m. a shining rocket trembled on its launching pad at Cape Canaveral and lifted into the air.

Its bottom half was an Atlas booster, but the top was something new in American rocketry—a second stage using liquid hydrogen as a fuel. It is called the Centaur.

Behind that launching lay nearly four years of intense research and engineering, many heart-breaking delays and many unforeseen technical roadblocks growing out of its exotic fuel, the most powerful chemical combination possible.

BEHIND SCHEDULE

Centaur was 16 months behind its original timetable when it roared off the pad that afternoon. Cameras were trained on the gleaming tube as it struggled aloft. All seemed well at first.

But after 50 seconds a cloud of hydrogen vapor surrounded the upper stage, pieces of the siding began coming off and a dark spot spread across the Centaur's fuel tank.

At 56 seconds after launch it blew up.

Then the postmortems began. Why did Centaur flunk its first flight test? Why was it so far behind schedule? What caused the delays along the line? If mistakes were made, have they been corrected?

SOME ANSWERS

A House space subcommittee asked these questions last week and got some of the answers.

From Grant L. Hansen, program director for General Dynamics Astronautics, which built the rocket, came the best guess as to the cause of the explosion: "The design of the weather shield between the nose fairing and the Centaur itself . . . was to blame."

This design was based on "assumptions of aerodynamic loads which turned out to be false."

He conceded, on hindsight, that "this was an engineering mistake." But he said it would be pretty easy to correct the design. Dr. Werner Von Braun, the ex-German rocket expert who heads the Marshall Space Flight Center team at Huntsville, Ala., had an explanation for some of the technical trouble:

"WILL SUCCEED"

"Not enough technical penetration" of the General Dynamics operation by the technical experts from Huntsville. This situation is now corrected, he said, and he is convinced "Centaur will succeed."

At first only one mission was assigned to Centaur—to put a high altitude satellite into an exact 24-hour orbit so that it would stay over one spot on earth.

But as the years went by, space planners began to see more and more fields for Centaur to conquer, and other missions were added: to carry scientific probes to the Moon and Mars and Venus; to act as an upper stage of the huge Saturn booster; to become a workhorse space vehicle as the space age passed out of the toddler stage. Each of these assignments meant changes in design.

The project, started on a comparatively shoestring appropriation of $59 million, had growing pains. Lack of spare parts, due to lack of money, caused some delays. Von Braun testified.

In the end, it will cost an estimated $350 million.

Two Mississippi teammates who ended up in Yankee Stadium are outfielder Jack Reed of the Yankees and Jim Patton, safety man for the New York Football Giants.

JILL ST. JOHN INDEPENDENT FINANCIALLY

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Jill St. John admits that she and Lance Reventlow are not an average couple.

With that out of the way, we can go on to her theory: It works out nicely for a husband and wife to have separate bank accounts.

"If the wife works, or has money of her own, I think it's a fine system," said the strawberry blonde. "At least it has proven that way for us."

CHANGED HIS MIND

Jill said that when she married the multi-millionaire heir of Barbara Hutton, he named a figure as regular allowance for her. "Fine," she replied.

Later he thought it over and said, "No, I'm not going to give you anything. You're making too much money yourself."

At that time she was under contract to 20th Century-Fox—she has since flown the coop. She accepted his decision gracefully and now says it's all for the good.

"I'm happier this way," she remarked. "I think it's good for a wife to buy things for herself with her own money. She feels more independent."

SURE HE'D MAKE LOAN

"I guess this goes back to my childhood. My folks bought me everything I needed. But that was always thrown up to me: 'How can you do that when we've always given you everything?' Also, my mother's tastes were imposed on me. She liked fancy clothes; I liked them simple. So I wore fancy clothes."

Jill said she now pays for all her clothes. Everything else, too. "But I'm sure Lance would lend me $5 or $10 if I was short and needed it to go out."

This system frees them to buy gifts for each other, which they do.

"Lance never had much interest in clothes," she explained. "So when I see a nice Italian shirt or sweater, I buy it for him. Once he admired a motorcycle, and I surprised him by buying it. He was so pleased that he bought one for me. Trouble is, I rode it once and went so slowly I fell off. I don't like speed; Lance does. I haven't ridden it since."

His Easter gift to her: A 45-gallon aquarium.

"For the past two years I've been an amateur marine biologist," she explained. "I've also got a 100-gallon tank in our playroom. I get purified sea water from Marineland and shipments of fish from Fiji, Hawaii and the Bahamas. I think everyone should have something that interests them."

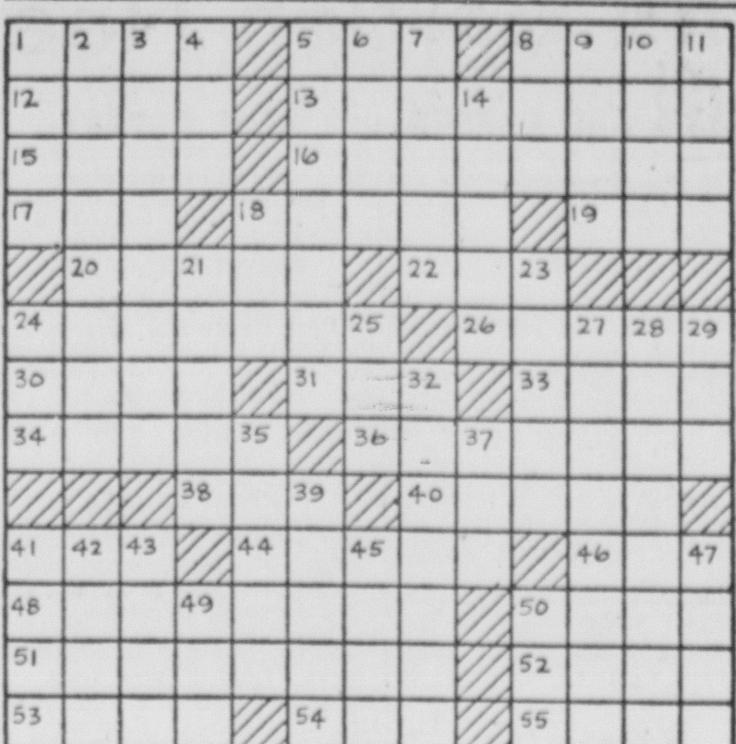

MORE CIVILIZED

"What I want to do next is put a porpoise in the swimming pool and study it. Extremely intelligent, the porpoise. But it needs salt water for buoyancy, and I don't know what that would do to the pool pipes. And whenever I mention my plan to Lance, he just looks at me."

Jill isn't panicked by loss of income since leaving Fox in January. She has a new manager who is planning big things for her. She'd like to work in Europe, since Lance's racing business often takes him there.

"Besides, the hours are more civilized," she said. "You start work at 11 in France and 10 in England, instead of reporting at 5 a.m. as you do in Hollywood."

MEMORIES OF PROBLEMS

NEW YORK (AP)—The handling of subscriber woes in the Theater Guild ticket office for 40 years is giving Addie Williams plenty to remember during retirement.

Miss Williams, who recently stepped out of office, handled requests from 500,000 show fans during her career. Among problems she developed a knack for solving were: Finding aisle seats for the lame, down-front locations for the hard of hearing and putting estranged couples in widely separated seats.

RELIGIOUS WEEKEND

CINCINNATI (AP)—Juvenile Court Judge Benjamin Schwartz has organized an experimental religious training program for young offenders.

Each weekend groups of 15 to 20 boys are sent to nearby church camps where they spend Saturday in a work and recreation program and Sunday morning in church services.

When the youths return Sunday afternoon they and their parents are counseled by workers of the local council of churches, the Salvation Army and the Catholic Archdiocese of Cincinnati.

Plans are under way for a similar program for girl offenders.

NCAA MEMBERS OPPOSING AAU IN FEDERATION

By SKIPPER PATRICK

Associated Press Sports Writer
KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—The NCAA-inspired movement—actually a revolt against the AAU—for new federations in track and field, basketball and gymnastics picked up considerable momentum over the weekend when two powerful athletic conferences endorsed the plan.

The Big Eight Conference, at its annual spring meeting in Lawrence, Kan., Saturday, became the latest organization to join the movement, "with enthusiasm."

A day earlier, the Big Ten Conference took similar action at its meeting in Lafayette, Ind., indicating it may ignore AAU meets in the future.

OTHER GROUPS

The NCAA at its January convention approved in principle separate federations for the three sports. The NCAA Council and Executive Committee formally adopted the program at their meeting in New Orleans last month.

The Eastern College Athletic Conference, a 134-member organization, was the first major group to endorse the movement. Other groups in the fold are the Atlantic Coast, Southern, Missouri Valley and Ohio athletic conferences, the National Junior College Athletic Association, the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Association (small colleges of Illinois and Michigan), and the Big Ten and Big Eight.

The High School Federation joined the movement in basketball, but has delayed authorization in track and field until after its convention in Canada ending July 5.

Walter Byers, executive director of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, said today all groups will be asked to come into the federation July 5 or shortly thereafter.

The AAU has been invited to join the new federation. It has opposed the idea.

Festival Queen Has Chicken Pox

HOLLAND, Mich. (AP)—The annual tulip festival was not very festive this year.

Miss Michigan, Karen Jean Southway, was kept away from the celebration by chicken pox.

Gov. John B. Swainson's plane was grounded by bad weather, canceling his appearance.

Temperatures near 90 degrees sent 35 persons to hospitals.

The hot weather even wilted most of the tulips.

Cites State Plan For Retarded Tot

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence says Pennsylvania has "the largest program for trainable mentally retarded children in the United States."

"We are providing service for 36,000 more mentally retarded pupils this year than we were at the beginning of 1955," he told the Pennsylvania Association for Retarded Children Saturday night.

Lawrence, in an address to the association's annual banquet, credited Democratic administrations in Harrisburg these past seven years with advancing the cause of combatting mental retardation in the Commonwealth.

The association also elected four directors-at-large: Mrs. Donald Jenkins, Camp Hill; Carl B. Wexler Jr., Phoenixville, and Harold Nathan, Fort Washington, all re-elected, and Mrs. William Conducci, Pittsburgh.

Hold Lead In State Tourney

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—John Neumyer and Lester Schuyler of Harrisburg continue to hold the lead in the Class A doubles competition of the state bowling tournament.

The pair, who took over the lead Saturday night, have a score of 1,410.

Some 200 bowlers and 49 teams competed Sunday but there were no changes in the top rankings.

J. Ordy and R. Henry of Butler posted a new high scratch score of 1,366.

The AAU has been invited to join the new federation. It has opposed the idea.
